DOWNTOWN OFFICE STORY
2021 Market Analysis

Data Collected and Analysis Compiled, January 1 – March 30, 2022

Unique Inventory Survey

Central Houston Inc.'s Office Story measures the 12-month Downtown competitive leasing cycle

- A unique Downtown Houston survey that includes:
 - All marketed space
 - Large available blocks / full floors
 - Tenants by industry
 - Sublease space on the market and by tenant
 - Multi-floor tenants
 - Large transactions / tenants new to Downtown
 - Operating expenses and property taxes by building
 - Downtown's largest tenants by industry and total amount of office space
 - Surveyed buildings organized into three distinct Tiers to better understand patterns in Downtown's top office towers including renovation and new construction
- Proprietary and longitudinal: Central Houston's Office Story in its 38th year; started in 1985 by Stewart O. Robinson, President, SOR Real Estate Advisors, LLC

Inventory Analysis

- Central Houston Inc. Office Story
 - Survey completed in January –March 2022 for all 2021 leasing activity
 - Approximately 37 Million SF
 - 48 office buildings
 - More than 71% of all Downtown office space
 - More than 1.8 Million SF of Downtown leasing during 2021
 - 5% of surveyed space was a new lease, expansion or renewal
- Downtown Houston is region's largest office market with >23.6 million SF in lease activity since 2015, almost the same size as Uptown's total inventory (27.1 million SF), Houston's 2nd largest market

Surveyed Buildings

By Tier	2021 Building Count	2021 Total Rentable Square Feet
Tier 1	13	12,759,771
Tier 2	14	14,369,799
Tier 3	21	9,807,219
Total	48	36,936,789

- The addition of 1550 on the Green has brought the Tier I count to 13
- 1300 Main has been removed from Tier III, as it is owner-occupied (historical metrics still use data from 1300 Main)

Marketed Space

- Overall, market for direct space loosened by 1.15M in 2021
- Very little sublease space compared to last year (510K available in 2021 vs. 1.17M in 2020).
3/5ths of this space is in Tier II

Tier Breakdown:

- Tier I: Market only loosened by 152K, padded by 1550 on the Green signing a tenant. Over 80% of loosening accounted for by activity in one building
- Tier II: Market loosened by 360K, 95% of this is accounted for by activity in 3 buildings, and 50% is accounted for in 1 building
- Tier III: Market loosened by 638K, accounting for 55% of the overall loosening. 85% of this activity is split across 5 buildings

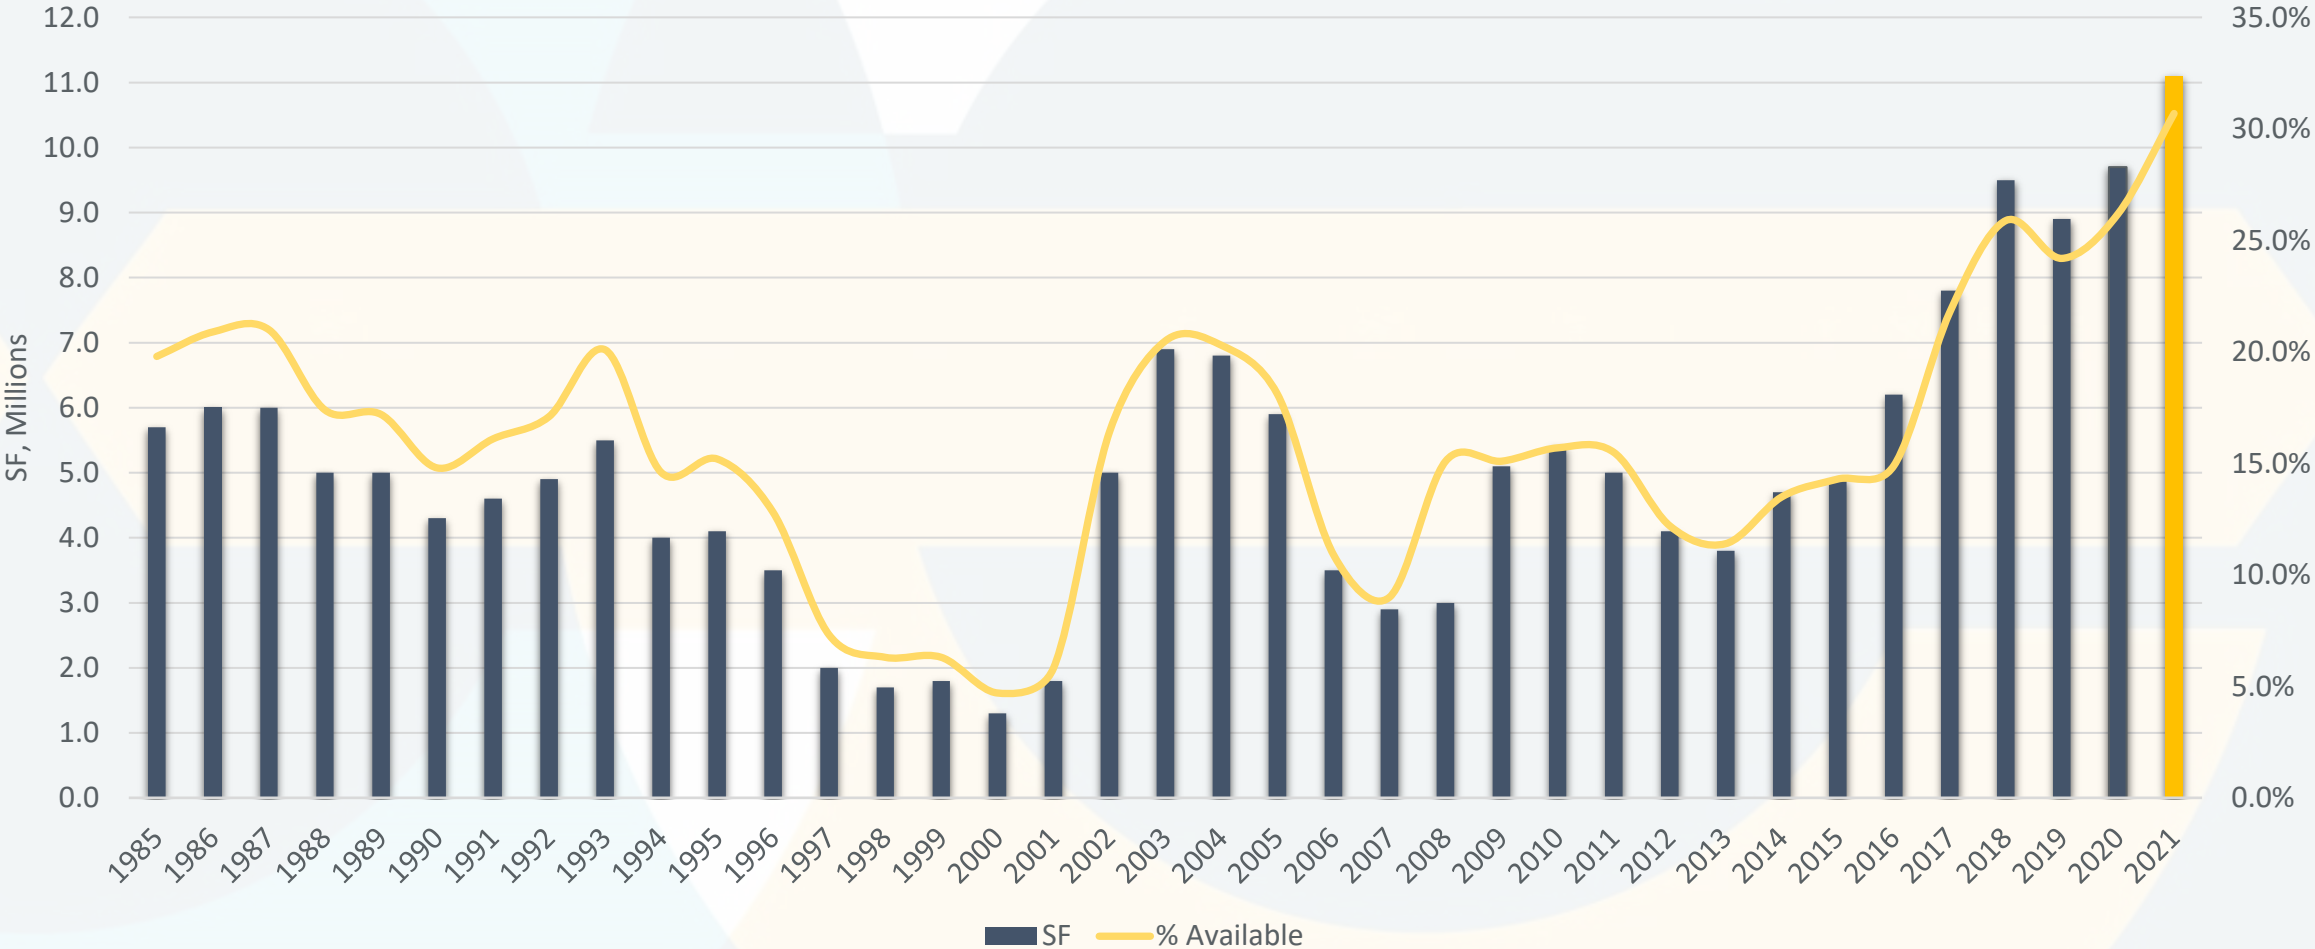

Marketed Space

Takeaways:

- The fact that loosening in Tiers I, II is not broadly driven suggests that while overall loosening may be due to COVID uncertainty, space in Tiers I, II remain highly attractive to existing tenants.
- The heavy skew of loosening towards Tier III and the fact that the loosening in Tier III is more broadly distributed suggests that the pressures of COVID have made Tier III space more undesirable for existing tenants. This may not keep up in 2022, when COVID cases are projected to reach more endemic levels.
- The halving of sublease space on market could be due to success in attracting tenants or due to sublease space going direct. The main driver of this reduction is Tier III, suggesting that specifically, subleasing in Tier III is undesirable, leading to direct marketing of these spaces.

Leasing Analysis

- Despite a surge in the price on energy, leasing activity was the lowest it has ever been in our survey (1.8M SF of leasing activity)
- Renewals makes up 68% of this activity and dominated in all 3 Tiers
- New leases have remained at about the same levels as last year and ticked up in proportion to the total amount of leasing activity
- Most of the reduction in leasing activity has been in Tiers II, III

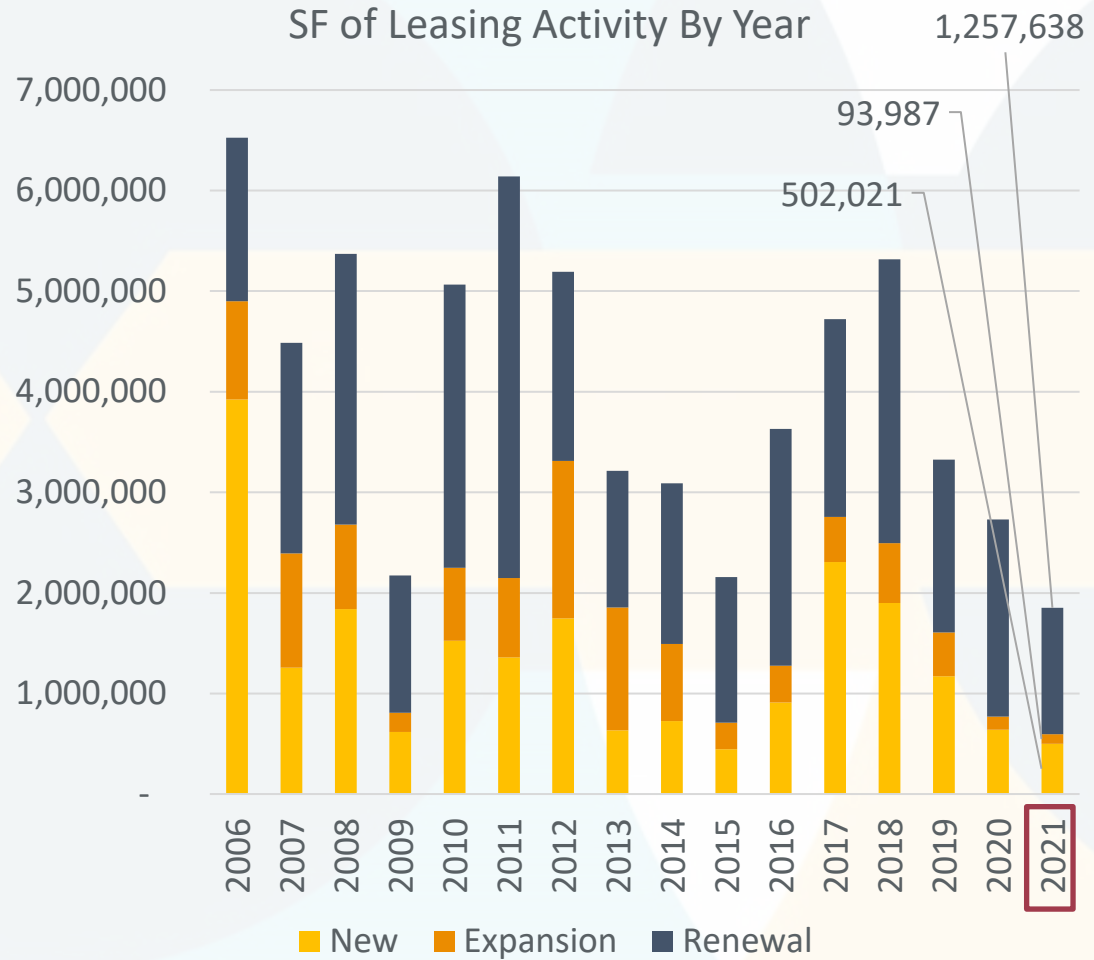

Leasing Analysis

Takeaways:

- Tier I has the most activity on the aggregate and in proportion to the amount of Tier I square footage surveyed (8.5% of total SF in Tier I saw activity), suggesting that Tier I spaces remain desirable despite COVID, in line with what we see from marketed space data.
- The data for Tier II indicates of low activity on the aggregate and in proportion to the amount of square footage surveyed, unlike what we saw with marketed space. This could be due to the end dates of tenants' leases being farther out.
- Tier III saw more activity than last year, but less SF of activity, suggesting that Tier III tenants may be downsizing.
- On the aggregate, downward pressures due to COVID dominated upward pressures from energy markets.

Leasing Analysis (By Size)

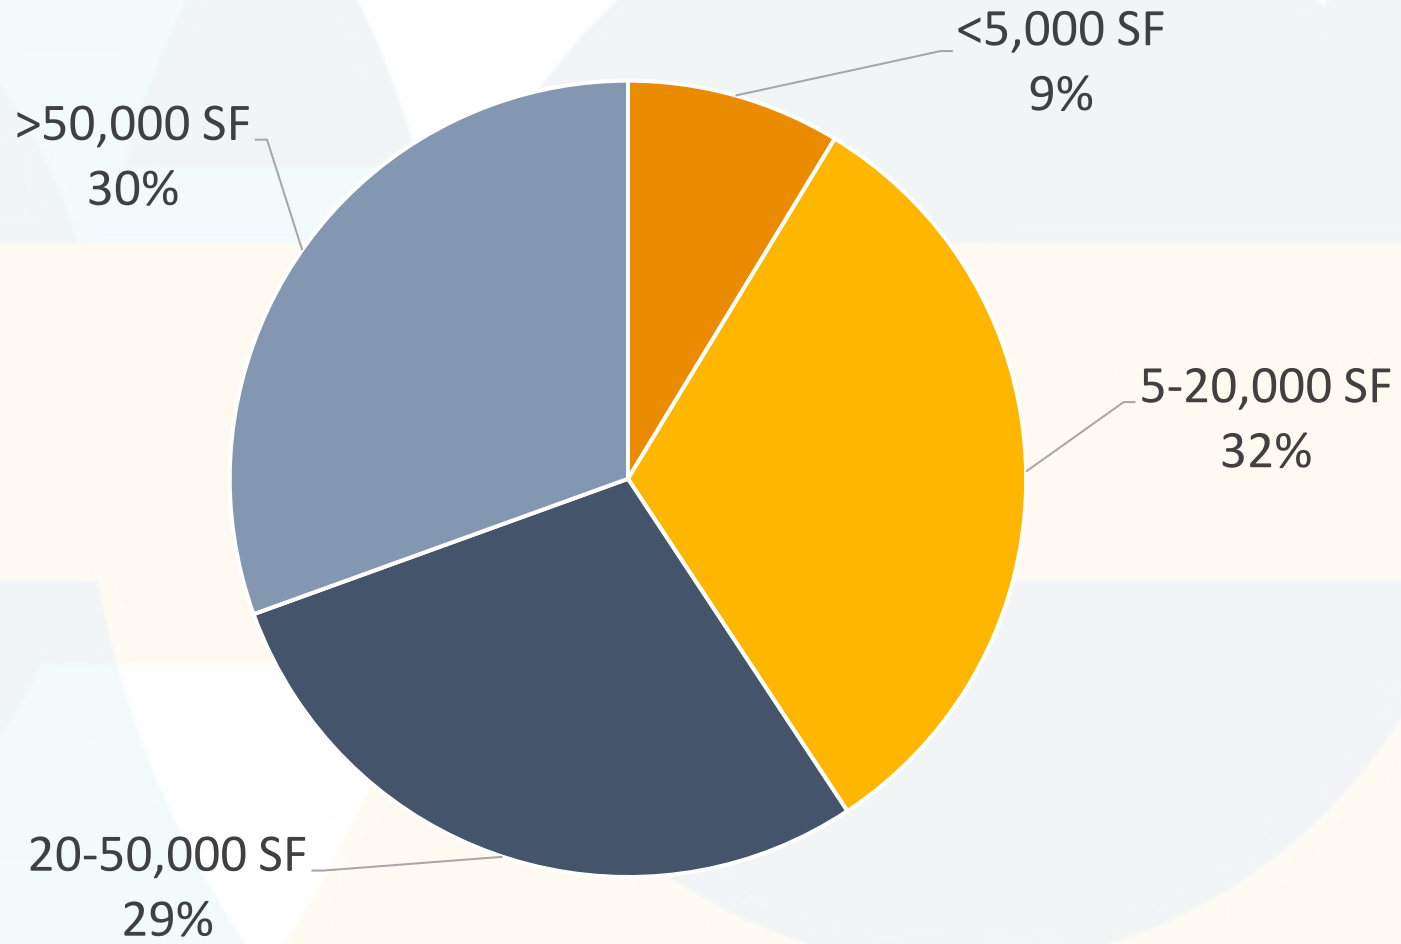

Takeaways:

- Aggregate activity shows less of a skew towards 50k+ activity, signaling reluctance to make large real estate transactions in 2021. This is likely due to COVID uncertainty and may fade with the pandemic.
- The Tier breakdown suggests that this reluctance is driven in Tiers II and III, telling us, along with other data, that Tier I remains desirable even with the pressures of COVID.

Occupier Analysis

- Energy nearly holds the majority of the tenant base and primarily takes up Tier II space
- Legal and FIRE skew towards Tier I space; considering this, we would conjecture that Tier I space remains desirable, Legal and FIRE will be the main drivers of activity
- The long-term trend suggests that Legal will occupy more and more space over time

1+	249	259	260	285	288

The data here, especially over the course of the pandemic, suggests that companies in Downtown Houston are downsizing, which is what we've indicated with other figures as well.

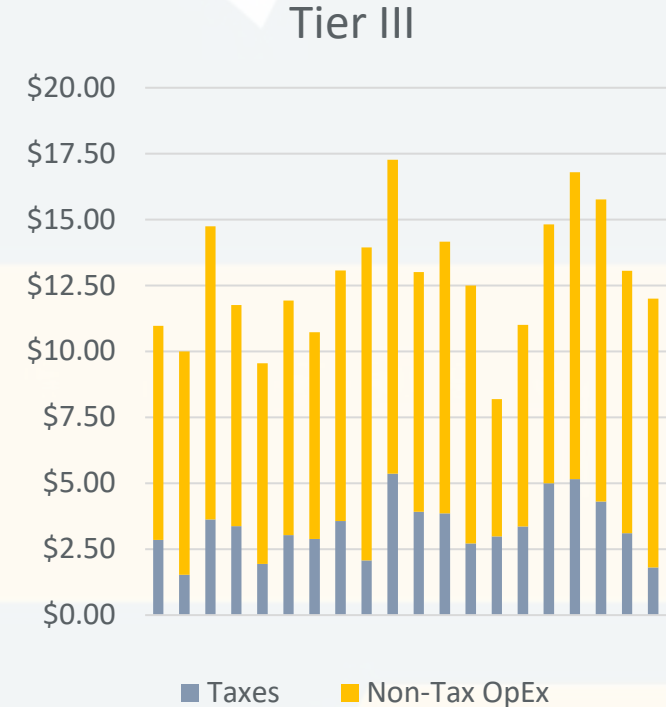

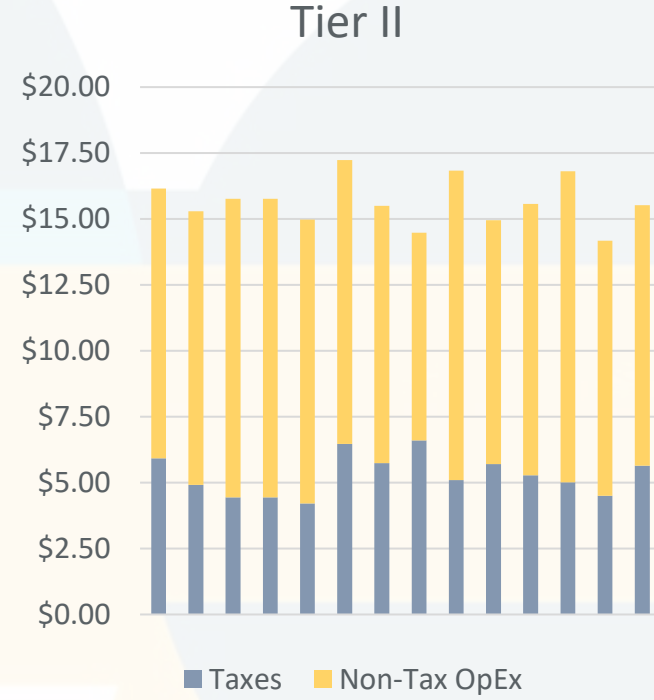

2021 New Downtown Occupiers

Takeaways:

- While activity count remained the about the same as last year, the footprint of new occupiers decreased dramatically, suggesting that while employers want to come to Downtown Houston, they are not looking to house large operations here. This is likely due to COVID uncertainty and may fade after the pandemic.
- The data supports the idea that Tier III occupiers are downsizing.

OpEx + Analysis

Our OpEx data gives insight as to why Tiers are structured the way they are:

- Tier I pays 46.6% of their OpEx towards property taxes, for Tiers II, III, this figure is 33.8% and 26.1% respectively.
- Tier I also routinely pays more property tax per SF than any other Tier.
